

Warm-up: The Big Picture

Unit 2: The Age of Contact

Name:

Date:

Period:

When the Europeans learned about North and South America in the 1400s, they were really excited about this land that was so new to them. They returned over and over to explore the Americas. The Spanish, in particular, had three specific goals for their exploration.

There are six goals listed below. Three of them were not primary goals of the Spanish. Place an X in the blanks of the three that you think were not Spanish goals. Then, put the remaining three goals in the order that you think would have been most important to the Spanish. For example, write a 1 next to the goal that you think was most important to the Spanish.

<input type="checkbox"/> Spread their religious faith	<input type="checkbox"/> Bring glory to themselves and their country
<input type="checkbox"/> Establish trade with Indigenous people	<input type="checkbox"/> Form alliances with other European nations
<input type="checkbox"/> Gain wealth and resources	<input type="checkbox"/> See how much land they can discover
