

Dinner Party Activity

Unit 8: Civil War

Name:  Date:  Period:

Invite your guests: Choose four people from our “Who’s Who of the Civil War” readings to invite to dinner. Use the graphic organizer below to create the seating arrangement. Write the name of the guest, their role in the Civil War (or what they are best known for during this era) and draw a picture that represents them. On the table, list and/or draw what food you will serve. Then, continue on the next page.

Your Guests

Guest Name	Why did you choose this person?

Opinions

Consider your guests' opinions and points of view about the Texas Revolution

Which guests do you think will share similar views and opinions?	Which guests do you think will have different views and opinions?
I think they will agree on ... (provide your reasoning)	I think they will disagree on ... (provide your reasoning)

Asking Questions

Your guests are seated and enjoying the meal. Take this time to ask them some questions. Write the name of each guest in the space provided at the top of the chart. Read the questions available and write how you think each guest would respond.

Then, create a question of your own for each guest to answer.

Question (Explain your responses)	Guest 1	Guest 2	Guest 3	Guest 4
Do you support Texas secession, or do you think Texas should remain with the Union? Why?
Do you think Texas should continue to use slave labor on plantations? Why or why not?

Eavesdropping

While you were entertaining all of the other guests at your dinner party (what, you thought there were only these four? You are incredibly important and popular, and your dinner parties are the event of the year!) you overheard some of the conversation at this table.

Draw word bubbles like the ones shown below and use them to tell us what you overheard. Write the name of the person talking beside their corresponding word bubble.
