

Warm-up: The Bigger Picture

Unit 4: The Mexican National Era

Name: Date: Period:

Imagine it: The year is 1835. The former federalist Antonio López de Santa has already joined the centralists, and his government has just abolished the Federal Constitution of 1824.

What headlines do you think you would find in a Texas newspaper at that time?

Circle or highlight all that you think are likely.

"The Centralists Save the Government!"	"Texans Fear for their Rights Under the Centralists!"	"People Demand Government Reinstatement Federal Constitution!"
"Betrayed! We Must Fight Against Centralism!"	"Santa Anna: Savior of the People!"	"Country Erupts in Anger! We Must Fight for Federalism!"

Warm-up: The Bigger Picture

Unit 4: The Mexican National Era

Name: Date: Period:

Imagine it: The year is 1835. The former federalist Antonio López de Santa has already joined the centralists, and his government has just abolished the Federal Constitution of 1824.

What headlines do you think you would find in a Texas newspaper at that time?

Circle or highlight all that you think are likely.

"The Centralists Save the Government!"	"Texans Fear for their Rights Under the Centralists!"	"People Demand Government Reinstatement Federal Constitution!"
"Betrayed! We Must Fight Against Centralism!"	"Santa Anna: Savior of the People!"	"Country Erupts in Anger! We Must Fight for Federalism!"

The Bigger Picture Exit Ticket

Directions: Consider what we have learned so far: the events developing in Texas including the Fredonian Rebellion, the Law of April 6, 1830, the disturbances at Anahuac, the Conventions of 1832 and 1833, and the arrest of Stephen F. Austin. Consider what was happening across Mexico, with the new President Santa Anna and the centralist takeover of the Mexican government.

What do you predict the people of Texas will do going forward?

I predict the people of Texas will _____

because _____

The Bigger Picture Exit Ticket

Directions: Consider what we have learned so far: the events developing in Texas including the Fredonian Rebellion, the Law of April 6, 1830, the disturbances at Anahuac, the Conventions of 1832 and 1833, and the arrest of Stephen F. Austin. Consider what was happening across Mexico, with the new President Santa Anna and the centralist takeover of the Mexican government.

What do you predict the people of Texas will do going forward?

I predict the people of Texas will _____

because _____