

Warm-up: Looking Ahead

Unit 1: Natural Texas and Its People

Name: Date: Period:

Imagine you and a few of your friends are on a long-distance mission in outer space. Your mission is failing, you're running low on supplies, and you find a planet that looks similar to Earth. You land your spacecraft on the planet and disembark (leave the craft.) There are some similarities to our planet, but some differences too. Then, from a distance, you see people. They look a little different in their appearance and clothes. What are you thinking and feeling right now? What are you wondering? What do you think might happen?	Write your response here
--	--

Warm-up: Looking Ahead

Unit 1: Natural Texas and Its People

Name: Date: Period:

Imagine you and a few of your friends are on a long-distance mission in outer space. Your mission is failing, you're running low on supplies, and you find a planet that looks similar to Earth. You land your spacecraft on the planet and disembark (leave the craft.) There are some similarities to our planet, but some differences too. Then, from a distance, you see people. They look a little different in their appearance and clothes. What are you thinking and feeling right now? What are you wondering? What do you think might happen?	Write your response here
--	--

Looking Ahead Exit Ticket

You are minding your own business, on a planet in a galaxy far from Earth. This is your home. The people here are your family and neighbors. A few of them you don't like very much (you know who you are, Bob!) Then, a strange group of people leave a strange looking aircraft that just landed near your community.

What are you wondering?

What questions do you have for these people?

What are you feeling?

What do you think might happen?

Write your response here

Looking Ahead Exit Ticket

You are minding your own business, on a planet in a galaxy far from Earth. This is your home. The people here are your family and neighbors. A few of them you don't like very much (you know who you are, Bob!) Then, a strange group of people leave a strange looking aircraft that just landed near your community.

What are you wondering?

What questions do you have for these people?

What are you feeling?

What do you think might happen?

Write your response here