

Warm-up: The Big Picture

Unit 9: Reconstruction

Name:

Date:

Period:

Directions: Circle or highlight each item in the answer bank that you think was true for Texas and the United States as we begin this unit. Choose up to SIX statements.

The U.S. decides to reinstate slavery in the Southern states to help their failing economies	Political conflict arises over how to deal with the former Confederate states	Many Southerners oppose the rights granted to the newly freed Black Southerners
The United States must determine how to move forward after the Civil War.	Southern states decide not to rejoin the Union, and instead keep their own governments.	Many ex-Confederates oppose the U.S. government's policies for reconstructing the South
The country focuses on commercial alliances with Britain and Mexico	Many Northerners want to punish the South for their rebellion	The government institutes programs to support the newly freed Black Southerners

Warm-up: The Big Picture

Unit 9: Reconstruction

Name:

Date:

Period:

Directions: Circle or highlight each item in the answer bank that you think was true for Texas and the United States as we begin this unit. Choose up to SIX statements.

The U.S. decides to reinstate slavery in the Southern states to help their failing economies	Political conflict arises over how to deal with the former Confederate states	Many Southerners oppose the rights granted to the newly freed Black Southerners
The United States must determine how to move forward after the Civil War.	Southern states decide not to rejoin the Union, and instead keep their own governments.	Many ex-Confederates oppose the U.S. government's policies for reconstructing the South
The country focuses on commercial alliances with Britain and Mexico	Many Northerners want to punish the South for their rebellion	The government institutes programs to support the newly freed Black Southerners

The Big Picture Exit Ticket

1. Which statement best describes the defining characteristics of the era of Reconstruction?
  - a. The era of Reconstruction is primarily characterized by the nation's attempts to address questions of reuniting the country, rebuilding the South, and determining the status of the newly freed Black Southerners.
  - b. The era of Reconstruction is primarily characterized by the South's attempts to remain separate from the U.S. and maintain their system of slavery despite the North's attempts at reunification.
  - c. The era of Reconstruction is primarily characterized by Northern and Southern politicians' attempts at reinstating the institution of slavery in order to maintain the South's successful plantation-based economy.
  - d. The era of Reconstruction is primarily characterized by the U.S.'s desire to establish new commercial alliances with powerful European nations in order to help the country heal and grow economically after the Civil War.

The Big Picture Exit Ticket

1. Which statement best describes the defining characteristics of the Era of Reconstruction?
  - a. The era of Reconstruction is primarily characterized by the nation's attempts to address questions of reuniting the country, rebuilding the South, and determining the status of the newly freed Black Southerners.
  - b. The era of Reconstruction is primarily characterized by the South's attempts to remain separate from the U.S. and maintain their system of slavery despite the North's attempts at reunification.
  - c. The era of Reconstruction is primarily characterized by Northern and Southern politicians' attempts at reinstating the institution of slavery in order to maintain the South's successful plantation-based economy.
  - d. The era of Reconstruction is primarily characterized by the U.S.'s desire to establish new commercial alliances with powerful European nations in order to help the country heal and grow economically after the Civil War.