

Warm-up: Mexican Independence and Filibusters

Unit 3: The Spanish Colonial Era

Name: Date: Period:

Directions: In this lesson we are going to learn about the War for Mexican Independence. Make predictions about what you expect to see in the material we learn.

People usually have to have a really good reason to be willing to fight and even die in a war. Why do you think people wanted to fight this war?	Who do you think will be fighting in the war? Why?	What do you think the outcome of the war will be? Who do you think will win?

Warm-up: Mexican Independence and Filibusters

Unit 3: The Spanish Colonial Era

Name: Date: Period:

Directions: In this lesson we are going to learn about the War for Mexican Independence. Make predictions about what you expect to see in the material we learn.

People usually have to have a really good reason to be willing to fight and even die in a war. Why do you think people wanted to fight this war?	Who do you think will be fighting in the war? Why?	What do you think the outcome of the war will be? Who do you think will win?

Mexican Independence and the Filibusters Exit Ticket

1. What was the primary significance of the War for Mexican Independence both for the people of New Spain and for Texas? Select TWO correct answers.
 - The people of New Spain gained their independence from Spain and officially founded the country of Mexico.
 - The war dramatically decreased the Spanish population of Texas, leaving it incredibly weak for Mexico.
 - The alliance that many Tejanos made with filibusters caused them to want to break free from Mexico and annex Texas to the United States.
 - The Tejanos of Texas decided to officially open Texas to immigration from the United States in gratitude for the support of the filibusters.
 - The Tejanos of Texas decided to officially prohibit immigration from the United States in response to the many filibusters who entered the state illegally during the war.

Mexican Independence and the Filibusters Exit Ticket

1. What was the primary significance of the War for Mexican Independence both for the people of New Spain and for Texas? Select TWO correct answers.
 - The people of New Spain gained their independence from Spain and officially founded the country of Mexico.
 - The war dramatically decreased the Spanish population of Texas, leaving it incredibly weak for Mexico.
 - The alliance that many Tejanos made with filibusters caused them to want to break free from Mexico and annex Texas to the United States.
 - The Tejanos of Texas decided to officially open Texas to immigration from the United States in gratitude for the support of the filibusters.
 - The Tejanos of Texas decided to officially prohibit immigration from the United States in response to the many filibusters who entered the state illegally during the war.