

Introduction to the Texas Revolution – 1835 Accommodated

Essential Question

How did conflicts and instability within Mexico's government lead to revolt among the Texas colonists?

U.S. Royal Boots

on

Marshall Ford Dam

Hook Exercise: I need a little help...

Scenario: You are president of a club at school and in charge of organizing all materials needed for the big event coming up. You've already collected around 60% of the items needed through donations but you're still missing a noticeable amount of supplies. You've reached out to your friends, neighbors, teachers, local businesses, and many others along the way and you are running out of contacts and time. With only one week to go before the big event, you decide to reach out one last time for more help and you know the perfect person! They know plenty of people and have connections to more local businesses. When this is all over, you're going to owe them one BIG TIME!

Instructions: In the space provided on your paper, write a 3-4 sentence letter to a family member persuading them to help you finish collecting donations for your club's event. Include the following explanations in your letter: why you need their help, what you need them to do, and how much time you have left to collect the items. Remember to add a closing statement.

Background Information 1:

After Mexico defeated Spain in the Mexican War for Independence, they established a new government and a new set of laws known as the Federal Constitution of the United Mexican States (more commonly referred to as the Constitution of 1824).

Background Information 2:

Early Anglo-American colonists settled in Texas under the newly established laws of the Republic of Mexico. However, the laws changed rapidly over the span of about ten years and resulted in major conflict between two main groups:

Government officials who wanted all the power in the central government, known as Centralists, and government officials (including the Texians) who wanted the power to remain divided between states or provinces, known as the Federalists.

Background Information 3:

On August 8, 1825, a group of Texians in San Jacinto met together to discuss the changes in the Mexican government. During their meeting, they wrote a letter of warning to all Texans titled “San Jacinto Resolutions” and published it in The Texas Republican (the local newspaper; the most modern form of media during that time).

Next you will compare and contrast the select articles of the Mexican Constitution to the claims Texans made against the Mexican government in the San Jacinto Resolutions.

Analysis Questions:

Consider the analysis question below as you view each document.

1. Based on the information in Document A, which article gave states power? Support your answer with text evidence.

The article that gives states power is

I can tell because the text states that

Analyze Document A:

The Mexican Constitution of 1824

Document A: The Mexican Constitution of 1824

Article	What it says:
Article 1 Established Mexico as a free nation.	The Mexican nation is forever free and independent of the Spanish government and of every other power.
Article 2 Established provinces (or state borders) within Mexico in order to establish federalism, or shared powers, among the states.	A constitutional law will be made for designating the boundaries of the Federation as soon as circumstances will permit.
Established Catholicism as the official religion of Mexico.	The religion of the Mexican nation shall perpetually remain Roman Catholic and Apostolic.
Article 4 (1) Established a democratic form of government giving power to the people through voting rights. (2) Divided power among the states and National government.	The Mexican nation adopts for the form of its government a popular representative and federal republic.
Article 6 Created a checks and balances system	The Mexican nation adopts for the form of its government a popular representative and federal republic.

Analyze Document B:

San Jacinto Resolutions August 8, 1835

Document B: San Jacinto Resolutions August 8, 1835 (Section 1)

Summary:

We are sad that the main Government of Mexico and the states throughout Mexico have lost their power granted in the constitution and that Santa Anna has been made Dictator. The people's militia [small army] is gone and now a violent army is making sure that the people listen to Santa Anna and the Central Government. The people of Texas want to express their concerns and worries about this matter.

Document B: San Jacinto Resolutions August 8, 1835 (Sections 2 and 3) (Section 2)

Summary: The original agreement that was promised in the constitution has been broken.

(Section 3)

Summary: Because the original agreement was broken we the people of Texas no longer have allegiance [a unit vocabulary word meaning loyalty] to the Mexican government.

Document B: San Jacinto Resolutions August 8, 1835 (Section 4)

(Section 4)

Summary: It is the duty of all the people to stand back and carefully study the facts of the situation before jumping into a scary Civil War.

Analysis Questions:

Consider the analysis question below as you view Document B.

2. Using the information from Section 1 in Document B, what type of government has Santa Anna established?

The form of government Santa Anna established is a

He did this because

The Texas Republican

The Texas Republican:

Saturday, September 19, 1835

Weekly newspaper from the Brazoria, Texas area that includes local, state and national news along with notices and advertising. This particular newspaper contains the San Jacinto Resolutions to inform other Anglo-American settlers in Texas of the issues in Mexico's government.

Brazoria County Area Newspapers

Situated in the Gulf Coast area region of Texas, Brazoria County has seen publication of some of the earliest newspapers published in Texas. One of the earliest titles in this collection, the Texas Gazette and Brazoria Commercial Advertiser, began publication in 1832 and documents Texas' history when it was still a part of the United Mexican States, in the state of Coahuila y Tejas.

Think like a Historian:

Compare and Contrast The Constitution of 1824 vs. San Jacinto Resolutions

Source: Printed in the Texas Republican, September 19, 1835

Document analysis instructions:

With group members, analyze the articles of the Mexican Constitution of 1824 in comparison to the San Jacinto Resolutions and answer questions 1-7 under the document analysis section.

Texas Declaration of Causes for Taking Up Arms Against Santa Anna

November 7, 1835

Texas Declaration of Causes for Taking Up Arms Against Santa Anna - November 7, 1835, Part 1

Introduction:

Whereas, Gen. Antonio Lopez de Santa Anna, and other military chieftains, have by force of arms, overthrown the federal institutions of Mexico, and dissolved the social compact which existed between Texas and the other members of the Mexican Confederacy, now the good people of Texas, availing themselves of their natural rights,
SOLEMNLY DECLARE,

Texas Declaration of Causes for Taking Up Arms Against Santa Anna - November 7, 1835, Part 2

1st. That they have taken up arms in defense of their rights and liberties, which were threatened by encroachments of military despots, and in defense of the republican principles of the federal constitution of Mexico, of 1824.

Summary: The people have taken up arms because they are defending their rights granted under the constitution of 1824.

2nd. That Texas is no longer morally or civilly bound by the compact of union; yet stimulated by the generosity and sympathy common to a free people, they offer their support and assistance to such of the members of the Mexican Confederacy as will take up arms against military despotism.

Summary: Texians no longer have to support the Mexican government and will instead support those who take up arms against the Mexican government.

Texas Declaration of Causes for Taking Up Arms Against Santa Anna - November 7, 1835, Part 3

3rd. That they do not acknowledge that the present authorities of the nominal Mexican Republic, have the right to govern within the limits of Texas.

Summary: The Texians do not support the current Mexican government to govern Texas.

4th. That they will not cease to carry on war against the said authorities, whilst their troops are within the limits of Texas.

Summary: The Texians will fight against the Mexican government while they are in Texas.

Texas Declaration of Causes for Taking Up Arms Against Santa Anna - November 7, 1835, Part 4

5th. That they hold it to be their right, during the disorganization of the federal system, and the reign of despotism to withdraw from the union, to establish an independent government, or to adopt such measures as they may deem best calculated to protect their rights and liberties; but that they will continue faithful to the Mexican government so long as that nation is governed by the constitution and laws, that were framed for the government of the political association.

Summary: It is the Texians' right while the Dictator Santa Anna is in power to make their own government that will uphold their rights and liberties. The Texians will continue to be loyal to the Mexican government as long as they follow the original constitution of 1824.

6th. That Texas is responsible for the expenses of her armies, now in the field.

Summary: Texas will pay for their own army.

Texas Declaration of Causes for Taking Up Arms Against Santa Anna - November 7, 1835, Part 5

7th. That the public faith of Texas is pledged for the payment of any debts contracted by her agents.

Summary: Texas will pay back any debts [money that they owe.]

8th. That she will reward by donations in land, all who volunteer their services in her present struggle, and receive them as citizens.

Summary: Texas will give land to those who help in the Revolution.

Closing statement:

These declarations we solemnly avow to the world, and call God to witness their truth and sincerity, and invoke defeat and disgrace upon our heads, should we prove guilty of duplicity.

Summary: We make these statements publicly and if we are wrong, we will lose.

Think like a Historian: Taking up Arms

Source: "Declaration of the People of Texas in General Convention Assembled," Journals of the Consultation Held at San Felipe de Austin, October 16, 1835 (Published by Order of Congress; Houston, 1838), 21-22.

Document analysis, next steps:
With group members, analyze the “Texas Declaration of Causes for Taking Up Arms Against Santa Anna” and answer questions 1-6 under the document analysis section.

Letter from Stephen F. Austin to Mary Austin Holley

January 7, 1836

Letter from Stephen F. Austin to Mary Austin Holley New Orleans, Jan 7, 1836, Part 1

(1) I hope to have the pleasure of seeing you soon, but it is not certain, as I may not be able to visit Lexington until I return from the Eastward as we are very much pressed for time. I am bound to Washington, New York etc. in company with Doctr. B. T. Archer, and W. H. Wharton Esqr. We are commissioners for the Texan Government. Our principal object is to raise money means and men to sustain our cause.

Summary: I hope to see you, but we are traveling and are busy trying to raise money for our cause.

Letter from Stephen F. Austin to Mary Austin Holley New Orleans, Jan 7, 1836, Part 2

(2) The War for Liberty goes on prosperously, so far, in Texas. It must, and will, end in Independence—a full Declaration will be made in March. That of 7th November was the first step, preparatory to the second and final one. The fact is, we have no other remedy left. By the last accounts the Central Government is established, and the Federal system totally destroyed. The Texans may, therefore, for the future, be considered an independent people, entirely separate from Mexico. We are young to set up for ourselves, but we are the sons of that great nation which has astonished the world by its deeds, and progress in the cause of liberty, light and truth. When I left Texas there was not an enemy within our limits, nor east of the River Bravo del Norte. Gen. Santanna, however, is marching on in person with all the force he can collect to annihilate us. We have no fears, but we must be ready for him. We need all the aid we can get in men and money, provisions, arms and ammunition.

Summary: The war for Texas independence goes on and will end in Independence because we have no choice. We will declare Texas entirely separate from Mexico in March. We are inspired by the United States. We know Santa Anna is marching towards us to destroy us and we must be ready in every way. This is why we need men, money, goods, and ammunition.

Letter from Stephen F. Austin to Mary Austin Holley New Orleans, Jan 7, 1836, Part 3

(3) Large contributions have been made in the United States for the extension of Christianity over the South Sea Islands by means of Missionary societies. Is not our cause quite as important and sacred? We are trying to banish from our homes religious intolerance and despotism, and to establish in the place of it, liberty and freedom of conscience. How many thousands of pious families of all denominations might find a home and become the proprietors of the soil in Texas—the best soil and climate accessible to north Americans—if religious toleration were once firmly rooted there! Religion, morality, the arts and sciences, the great sources of liberty—which is in fact, the cause of mankind—all unite in calling upon the free, the generous, the enterprising and the pious, to step forward in aid of Texas. We expect aid from the religious portion of the community, and that the pulpit will pour out its fervent prayers to a just God for his blessing on our endeavors, and send its eloquent voice to the people in the cause of all free churches—the cause of truth and justice.

Summary: As of right now there is a no religious tolerance [you must be Catholic as a Mexican citizen], but we want to change that. It is our goal to have Religious freedom. We are hoping for religious support for our important cause.

Letter from Stephen F. Austin to Mary Austin Holley New Orleans, Jan 7, 1836, Part 4

(4) Our fate will probably be decided in three months. Santanna is making a great effort. If he fail, it must be his last. Now is the time to aid us— now is the time of salvation. We need everything—provisions and money— and men well armed, officered, and provided. Their expenses will all be refunded at the close of the war, with interest, besides donations in land, The opening is a great one, if it were only a matter of speculation—it is glorious in its cause. A new republic is about to rear its independent banner over a country but lately a wilderness— There is magnificence in the idea—prosperity freedom and glory in the results.

Summary: The end of the Revolution is close. Now is the time to send aid in the form of well-armed men. These men will be given land in Texas at the end of the war and money borrowed will be returned. It will also be paid off in glory.

Letter from Stephen F. Austin to Mary Austin Holley New Orleans, Jan 7, 1836, Part 5

(5) We shall stop one day at Louisville. I should like much to visit Lexington. Some of my much cherished schoolmates and companions of happy days still reside there: John McCalla, Pierce Butler the Todds etc. please remember me to them. Tell my Cousins E_____ and H_____ I hope it will not be long before they can live in Texas with such comforts as they merit. If we weather the storm untill June all will end well and prosperously. I have no doubt we shall, for we rely on aid from the people of the U. S.—but it must be prompt.

(6) There is a Louisiana Battalion; a Georgia Battalion; a Mississippi Battalion; an Alabama Battalion; and a Tennessee Battalion; why can there not be a Kentucky Battalion? It would be a fine opening for a military man of standing—a Lafayette service. They might go by land from Natchitoches, or by water from here. The former I prefer, as Mexican cruisers are on the coast. We are fitting out some to meet them, but our money is rather short.

Summary: Stephen F. Austin would like to set up a Kentucky Battalion [soldiers from the state of Kentucky], but could use some money to help in this effort.

Letter from Stephen F. Austin to Mary Austin Holley New Orleans, Jan 7, 1836, Part 6

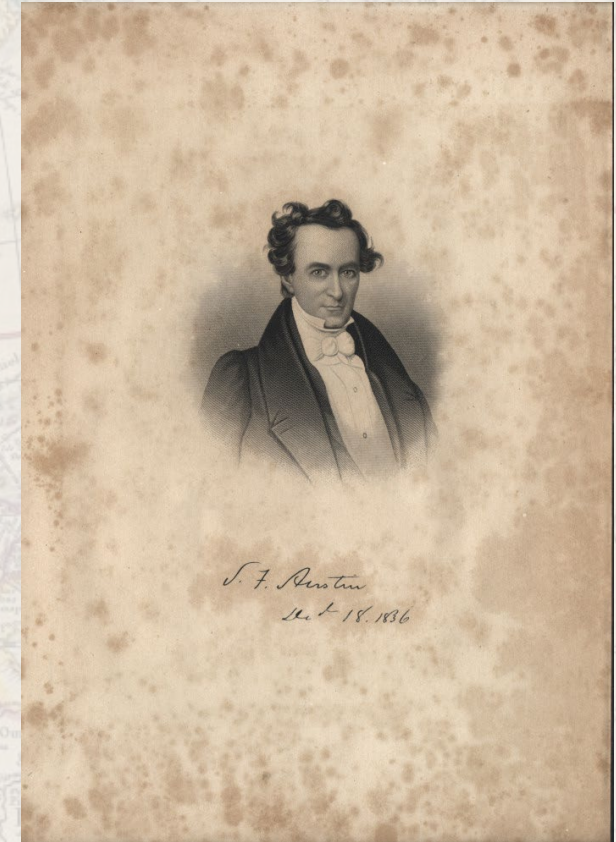

(7) I have written hastily and must close, for I am at the end of the paper, but not at the end of the subject. It is a copious one, and I am perhaps rather enthusiastic in the view I take of it. My whole heart and soul is devoted to it. I am well.

S. F. A.

Think like a Historian:

Primary source letter from Stephen F. Austin to Mary Austin Holley

Source: Eugene Barker, ed., The Austin Papers (Austin: University of Texas Press, 1927), 3 vols., Vol 3, pp. 300-301.

Document analysis directions:

With group members, analyze the letter from Stephen F. Austin to Mary Austin Holley and answer questions 1-6 under the document analysis section.

Exit Ticket

In your opinion, were the Texian volunteers prepared for a revolution? Explain your reasoning.

I believe that the Texian Volunteers were/were not (circle one) prepared for revolution because

U.S. Royal Boots

Marshall Ford Dam